Cranna Attends NYCOM (New York State Conference of Mayors Annual Meeting)

Tivoli... Village of Tivoli Mayor Bryan F. Cranna attended the NYCOM (New York State Conference of Mayors) Annual Meeting on May 24-26 in Saratoga Springs, New York.

Cranna joined several other Mayors from around New York State to discuss issues that are currently facing all municipalities; ranging from unfunded mandates, rising pension costs, open meetings law, and other significant topics that all cities and villages face, no matter their size or population.

Mayor Cranna stated, "I was very honored to represent The Village of Tivoli at NYCOM's Annual Meeting. The opportunity to meet with other Mayors and discuss the issues that we all face as Chief Executives of our municipalities and how to best address those issues was very beneficial to me."

Cranna continued, "During the transition period from former Mayor Cordier to me, the New York Conference of Mayors was a great asset; answering several questions and providing advice. The Conference has been a true friend and partner, and I am grateful to the entire organization for their assistance."

NYCOM Executive Director Peter Baynes added, "During challenging fiscal times, it is particularly important that local officials learn from experts and each other on the most effective ways to provide essential local services in a responsive yet affordable manner. Mayor Cranna is to be commended for his efforts to better serve his constituents with the valuable knowledge and insights he learned at NYCOM the Annual Meeting."
