Deputy Mayor Cranna's Comments on Trustee Hogan's Retirement from the Village of Tivoli Board of Trustees

Recently, my colleague on the Village of Tivoli board of trustees, Trustee Patricia Hogan, announced she would not seek another term to the post she has honorably held since 1997.

I have had the pleasure of serving with Trustee Hogan for the last four years. During that time, I have gained much from her experience in village government.

I applaud her service and her dedication to the community she calls home. Whether as a representative of the village board or as a private citizen, Trustee Hogan is a constant presence at many community-sponsored events and volunteers her time to improving the village.

As I seek a third term to the board of trustees, and should I be fortunate enough to gain the support of the residents of Tivoli, I look forward to reaching out to Trustee Hogan for advice and counsel on issues that directly affect our village.

Thank you, Trustee Hogan, for your service to Tivoli.
